KRK Guided tour

May 14, 2026 9:30 AM

Today, explore the blue-green island of Krk with Barbara!

Krk is an island of contrasts, from barren, moon-like landscapes to green meadows and forests, from shepherd settlements to historic cultural centers and developed holiday resorts. Krk constantly surprises its visitors! One of the highlights is also the drive across the Krk Bridge, which was once even listed in the Guinness Book of World Records.

The town of Krk is the cultural center, known for its romantic seaside promenade (Riva) and its well-preserved old town with city walls. The square Vela placa is the heart of the town, where life is vibrant - shops, cafés, and restaurants invite you to stroll and relax. Kamplin Square, with the old Frankopan fortress and the cathedral with its bell tower, is the town's landmark and often serves as a beautiful backdrop for various cultural events and festivals.

The holiday resort of Punat lies in the southern part of the island, in one of the best-protected bays of the Adriatic, the Bay of Puntarska Draga, which is connected to the open sea only by a narrow strait. Punat features a charming promenade stretching from the marina to the beautiful beaches in the southern area. For sailors, the bay is a paradise—the local marina offers space for up to 850 boats in the water and an additional 300 on land. The village of Vrbnik is located on the eastern coast of the island, perched on a 49-meter-high cliff above the sea, and boasts a particularly fascinating old town. Built on rock, every house and passage had to adapt to the terrain, which still gives the place its unique character today. Soline Bay – in the village of Čižići lies Meline Beach, famous for its healing mud (fango). In summer, visitors love to cover themselves in mud from head to toe and let it dry. To reach deeper water, you need to walk several meters, as the beach is very shallow.
